

"Finally understood a question I've been stressing about for hours!"

- Year 11 student, maths

"Studiosity is helping me feel better and more confident with my work because I'm starting to understand maths problems. THANKYOU!"

You have no idea how much better I feel about myself."

- Year 10 student, maths

"Before I was scared to write an essay, but now I'm so much more confident than I was before."

- Year 8 student, Essay writing

"It think that it's really helpful! Always having someone there to help you if your parents don't understand your homework or it's too late to ask a teacher is really great to have."

- Year 11 student, biology

"My son has been using Studiosity service on [our library] website. We are very happy with this service, it has been a big help to my son. Tutors are very helpful, giving guidance to students, ensuring they understand the question completely. My son was losing his smile for Maths, but it returned when using this service. Thank You!!"

So how do I access the free homework help?

As a library member, you get access to the service for free by logging in with the barcode on your library card.

It might look a bit like this:

Or, find Studiosity after you log in to your library's own website.

When you log in, you will see all the subjects, year levels, and current return times available.

So go check it out tonight.

Studiosity

Cessnock City Library's Studiosity service is FREE for members.

We all get 'stuck' sometimes.

Whether on homework, or an essay draft. With Studiosity, help is always there - 24/7, online, on-demand.

A real, subject-area specialist is waiting to help you. Chat with voice or text, draw on the online whiteboard, upload a pic of your textbook, and ask a question - and it's just for you! The help is always one-to-one (and it's anonymous so there's no such thing as a silly question.)

You can even upload a draft essay you're working on, and get feedback in less than 24 hours (tip: upload your file before you go to sleep!)

Who are the people, the 'Subject Specialists'?

The best minds; made up of teachers, university academics, and other professional experts.

Every single Specialist must pass stringent tests, screening, background checks, and training, to compete for a place in the Studiosity network. All are recruited on Australian education standards. All go through continuous checks and development with our Academic Services and Quality Assurance teams.

How does the job help work?

A well-written CV and resume might be why your future boss asks for an interview! On the other hand, poor English spelling, phrasing, grammar, or structure might send your application straight to the recycling bin.

Upload your CV or resume to the writing feedback service for fast, detailed feedback on how to improve it before you send it off to a prospective employer. It's free and fast - why not!

What are the educational standards?

We've been around for more than 19 years. In 2023, you can find us in more than 70% of Australian universities, plus schools, TAFEs, and government programs.

With the highest academic standards and ethical policies, parents and teachers are assured that the help students receive is contributing to their capability to think for themselves - we employ constructivist learning techniques, and a strict 'no answers' policy.

We also have an Academic Advisory Board, including some of Australia's most respected educators, from high school to university.

Yes, there's an app too.

After you have activated your free account through the library, you can download the Studiosity app and connect your account, for feedback and study chat on the go.

More and more students in Australia and around the world are using their library's Studiosity service to ace their studies this year.

When you don't have time:

Upload your assignment draft for same-day feedback.

When you really don't have time:

Chat through your question in 20min.

Ask a question in all core subjects, or get writing feedback in any subject at all (just upload a draft).
