PART 3 – BENEFIT OF TREES

THE BENEFIT OF PLANTING TREES

The value of trees in a sustainable world is beyond measure:

Economic Benefits:

Property values are increased by the presence of trees by creating a 'leafy suburb'. In rural areas trees shelter stock and stabilise soil. Trees also save money in home heating and cooling costs if planted effectively.

Social/Cultural Benefits:

Visually, trees make an important contribution to the character and amenity of the local area by forming a significant vista in the landscape. Trees improve our quality of life by providing a sense of peacefulness, restfulness, serenity and tranquillity as a result of creating a more natural and less artificial environment.

Environmental Benefits:

Trees purify the air, screen objectionable views, soften the built environment, and create a habitat for birds and other wildlife. They can also reduce glare from street lamps and car headlights, modify the wind and reduce the damaging effect of strong gales. Some have a cooling effect in summer by reducing the amount of heat radiated from surfaces if planted effectively.
